

Eilat Street

Helena Lieberman
Oil on canvas, 100 × 120 cm, 2024

Helena Lieberman is an Israeli artist based in Tel Aviv. Although not a native of the city, she has developed a deep connection to its rhythm, light, and people. The urban landscape serves as her primary source of inspiration, reflected in her expressive and vibrant compositions. Through her paintings, Lieberman captures the essence of Tel Aviv—its streets, buildings, and human encounters—portraying the city’s unique pulse and spirit with authenticity and warmth.

Eilat Street depicts one of Tel Aviv’s most iconic streets, seen through Lieberman’s personal lens. With expressive brushstrokes and a vivid palette, the work celebrates the city’s lively movement and layered history, inviting viewers to experience its dynamic atmosphere and emotional depth.

Courtesy of the Space Art Gallery
[thespaceartgallery@gmail.com]

