Subject: Dr. Adnan Al-Bursh

A week ago, the BMJ Journal published an article which, as is often the case with this publication, portrays Israel in a negative light.

Among other things, the final paragraph reports on Dr. Adnan Al-Bursh, an orthopedic physician who allegedly died in an Israeli prison, according to his family after being tortured.

We would appreciate any information that could help us refute this claim, which, needless to say, causes significant harm to Israel's standing and image worldwide.
